

Mossad

The Leading Terrorist Organisation

While the word 'Terror' has become the most important syllable in current political speeches, there is hardly any talk about the worldwide leading terrorist organization. The present study tries to catch up with this deficiency.

Mossad was formed in 1949 as 'The Institute for Intelligence and Special Operations.' It is a master of false-flag actions, driving opponents toward hostile reactions. Mossad's former motto, בתחבולות תעשה לך מלחמה, "For by wise counsel thou shalt make thy war." is commonly misquoted, "By way of deception thou shalt make war." [1] Even if it may be wrongly translated, it perfectly describes the core activity of Mossad. Here, I shall collect a number of occasions where a false-flag action has been adopted, most probably by Israel, often without strictly being able to identify Mossad. In this connection, I do not believe in the principle 'in dubio pro reo' and I shall not feel ashamed if in some issue mention of this criminal organization was not justified.

Smaller Activities

The most important involvement of Mossad is not known as such. A defected Mossad-agent, Victor Ostrovsky, wrote a fascinating book, 'By Way of Deception,' describing the daily practice of the organization, which, in common with similar organizations abroad, carries the name of 'intelligence' as an ironical designation only. Among the crimes, I cite the following:

- 1965: Mehdi Ben Barka is murdered on behalf of the Moroccan King.
- 1968: The German freighter „Scheersberg A", disappeared on its way from Antwerp to Genoa along with its cargo of some 200 tons of uranium oxide (Yellowcake). When the freighter reappeared in İskenderun in Turkey, the cargo was missing; it had been transferred at sea to an Israeli ship. This was the chemical basis for the Israeli nuclear programme.
- 1969: Theft of French Mirage 5 plans, which led to the development of the Nesher fighters in the 1970s.
- 1969: Removal of five missile boats from the French shipyard of Cherbourg which were paid for by the Israeli government but were not delivered due to the French arms embargo.
- 1970: A spokesman for the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, Ghassan Kanafani, was killed in a car bombing in Beirut.
- 1972: Sending of letter bombs during the Operation Wrath of God campaign, a revenge for the massacre of Israeli sportiers at the Olympic Games in Munich.
- 1972: Wael Adel Zuaiter was assassinated in Rome on Oct. 17.
- 1973: Ahmed Bouchiki was killed in Lillehammer, Norway, while walking with his pregnant wife. He had been mistaken for Ali Hassan Salameh, one of the leaders of the Palestinian group, Black September, which was responsible for the Munich massacre. Six Mossad agents were arrested, and they had used fake Canadian passports.
- 1973: Hussein Ali Abu al-Khmer was assassinated in Cyprus on April 6.
Bassel Rauf al-Kais was assassinated in Paris on April 6.
Mahmoud Abu Daieh was assassinated in Paris on June 28.
- 1977; Mahmoud Walad Saleh was assassinated in Paris on Feb. 2.
- 1978: Said Hamami was assassinated in London on Feb. 2.
Ezz al-Din al-Kalak was assassinated in Paris on Aug. 3.
- 1979: Ibrahim Abed al-Aziz was assassinated in Paris on Dec. 15.
Samir Tokan was assassinated in Cyprus on Dec. 15.
Zuheir Mohsen was assassinated in France on July 26.
- 1980: Josef Mubarak was assassinated in Paris on Feb. 18.

- 1981: Majed Abu Sharar was assassinated in Rome on Oct. 9 1981.
Naim Khader was assassinated in Brussels on Dec. 7 1981.
- 1982: Mohammad Taha was assassinated in Germany.
Kmal Hasan abu Dalo and Nazeh Matar were assassinated in Rome, June 26.
Fadel Sad Anani was assassinated in Paris on July 23.
- 1983: Ma'amon Imresh al-Sghaier was assassinated in Athens on Aug. 20.
Jamel Abed al-Khader Abu al-Rob was assassinated in Athens on Dec. 22.
- 1984: Hnna Meqbel was assassinated in Nicosia on May 13.
- 1986: Abduction of nuclear technician Mordechai Vanunu in Italy in 1986 after American-Israeli agent Cheryl Bentov lured him from the United Kingdom.
Khaled Ahmad Nazzal was assassinated in Rome on June 9.
Monther Jode abu Ghazale was assassinated in Athens on Oct. 21.
- 1988: Mohammad Hasan Behias, Marwan al- Kayali and Mohammad Basem Hamdi were assassinated in Limassol on Feb. 14.
- 1992: Atef Bseiso was murdered on the street in Paris, the so far latest revenge killing after Munich. Two agents used the Peugeot escape car – which had been spotted by police – 24 hours later to drive to the airport. When the two were arrested, one, a woman, broke down and confessed to working for Israel, while the other was carrying an unlisted number that led police to a third agent. In his possession was discovered a detailed Mossad cable of instructions which, among other things, explicitly ordered the team not to carry any compromising material on them.
- 1997: Two Mossad agents with fake Canadian passports were caught on a mission to assassinate Sheikh Khaled Mashal, leader of Hamas, by poisoning him in Amman, Jordan. This led to a diplomatic row with Canada and Jordan. Israel was forced to provide the antidote to the poison and to release around 70 Palestinian prisoners, in particular the Hamas leader Sheikh Ahmed Yassin, in exchange for the Mossad agents. In March 2004, Sheik Yassin was killed in an Israeli helicopter airstrike in Gaza. Possibly the same poison was used to kill Yassir Arafat in the same year.
- 2004: Assassination of Hamas leader Izz El-Deen Sheikh Khalil in Damascus.
- 2004: New Zealand imposed diplomatic sanctions on Israel over an incident in which two Israelis, attempted to obtain New Zealand passports fraudulently by claiming the identity of a severely disabled man. The Israeli Foreign Minister later apologized to New Zealand for their actions. New Zealand cancelled several other passports believed to have been obtained by Israeli agents.
- 2007: Dr. Ardeshir Hosseinpour, a scientist believed to be involved in the Iranian nuclear program, was killed by the Mossad on January 15, 2007. The programme had, however, been halted in 2003.
- 2009: Assassination of Al-Mabjough in Dubai presents a first photographic view of Mossad agents – thanks to Israeli surveillance equipment [2]

Israeli Prime Ministers

Each assassination is an extrajudicial execution order, signed by the current Israeli Prime Minister, of whom then few, if any, are innocent. Also executions by the army and the Inland 'intelligence' service, Shin Beth, are to be considered this way. All PM shall therefore be considered here, though proof of crimes is pending in a few cases.

The Lavon Affair

On July 2, 1954, the Alexandria post office was firebombed [3]. On July 14, the U.S. Information Agency offices in Alexandria and Cairo were set afire by phosphorus incendiary devices; a British-owned theater was also hit. However, the Israeli spy ring had itself been infiltrated by the Egyptian intelligence service. They knew what Philip Nathanson was up to as he made his way to a designated target in Alexandria. As he approached his target, the bomb in his pocket went off, injuring but not killing its bearer.

Two men were executed, one died under torture, one committed suicide and the imprisoned were freed in 1962-68. This was undoubtedly the biggest failure of the then young organization. In Israel, Defense Minister Pinhas Lavon was forced to resign. However, Israel only admitted responsibility in 2005. Then the terrorists were even honoured in a state ceremony.

The USS-Liberty Attack

On June 8, 1967, during the six-day war, which Israel has lately admitted to have started, three Israeli Mirage-fighters and three torpedo-boats tried to sink an American destroyer, USS Liberty, north of Sinai [4]. They not only used all sorts of explosive weapons but also napalm, so the deck of the ship was a burning hell. The carrier USS Saratoga was situated 410 miles away by Crete and first acknowledged the ships call for help, sending off 12 Phantoms. They were immediately called off upon instructions from Defense Secretary McNamara in Washington. Also subsequent planes were called back. President Lyndon B. Johnson came on the line, stating, "We'll not embarrass an ally." Meanwhile, it looked as if USS Liberty would sink, so the captain gave orders to abandon the ship. However, the vessels also attacked the rafts. There were to be no survivors.

However, although badly damaged, the ship remained floating. After almost one hour, the attackers retired. More than an hour later, they and two Israeli helicopters returned, now proclaiming that they offered help, but this was refused by the surviving Americans. 34 were killed and 172 wounded, several of them severely by the 'devoted ally.' The ship was finally assisted by other American naval ships, the remaining sailors evacuated and USS Liberty carried off to Malta for temporary repair before being escorted across the Atlantic. The survivors were split to different units and given strict orders not to speak about the 'incident.' More than 25 years later, they have finally started to ignore that, though finding no support among the corrupt politicians.

The Israelis claimed it was "a mistake," which can be refused as an upright lie. Israeli pilots circled the ship at low level 13 times on eight different occasions before attacking. The ship was easily identified as American, and one of the pilots refused to attack – he was then arrested upon landing. Despite the evidence, no US administration has ever found the courage to ever found the courage to defy the Israeli lobby by publicly demanding a proper accounting from Israel.

Revenge to the Terror-Attack in Munich

In 1972, Palestinian terrorists from the group Black September killed 11 athletes taken prisoner during the Olympic Games in Munich. Two were killed instantly and nine during a failed liberation attempt, which also took the lives of five of the eight terrorists and a German policeman. The three surviving terrorists were captured, but later released by West Germany following the hijacking by Black September of a Lufthansa airplane. Of these three, one died of heart failure and the other two are believed to be alive. Also the man who claim to have planned the attack is alive.

Over a period of 20 years, Mossad killed more than a dozen exiled operatives and activists in three Palestinian factions as part of its post-Munich operation, in France, Italy, Cyprus, Spain, Greece and Lebanon. This activity was rather unspecific: most of the victims were wrongly appointed and had played no part in the atrocities. Besides, behind the iron curtain, the Palestinians were comparatively safe.

La Belle Attack and Lockerbie Bombing

In the discotheque 'La Belle' in West-Berlin, a bomb placed under a table exploded at the club, killing a Turkish woman and two US servicemen and injuring 230 people, including more than 50 American servicemen. Libya was blamed for the bombing after telex messages had been intercepted from Libya to the Libyan East Berlin embassy congratulating them on a job well done. President Reagan retaliated by ordering airstrikes against the Libyan capital of Tripoli and city of Benghazi, whereby 15 people died– including Colonel Gaddafi's adopted 15-month old daughter.

Victor Ostrovsky explains [5], "the Mossad tried to make it appear that a long series of terrorist orders were being transmitted to various Libyan embassies around the world ... The French and the Spanish ... argued that, had there truly been after-the-fact Libyan communications regarding the attack, then the terrorist attack on the La Belle discotheque in West Berlin on April 5 could have been prevented, since surely there would have been communications before, enabling intelligence agencies listening in to prevent it. Since the attack wasn't prevented, they reasoned that it must not be the Libyans who did it [and they] were right." Nevertheless, in 2001, a Libyan diplomat, Musbah Abdulghasem Eter, and two Palestinians were convicted in Berlin of aiding in murder, committed by a German woman. This case thus showed similarities with the following, 2½ years later [6].

On December 20, 1988, PanAm flight 103 from Frankfurt to New York exploded over the Scottish village Lockerbie, killing all onboard and 11 persons on the ground. It was immediately claimed that Libyan agents had planted a bomb, using a Swiss timer. After a prolonged struggle with the Libyan authorities, Mr. Abdelbaset Ali Mohamed al-Megrahi, 54, was convicted by a strange process in Holland in 2001, receiving a life sentence for the crime.

Megrahi's lawyers already have a sworn statement from a retired Scottish police officer confirming that evidence had been planted by the CIA to secure the Libyan's conviction [7,8]. The Swiss engineer Ulrich Lumpert in the Summer of 2007 delivered a sworn statement, in which he revoked earlier statements for the Lockerbie investigation and concluded, that some pieces of evidence have been "intentionally and politically' manipulated" [9]. This fact was already contained in a document available at the process that was never shown to the defence [10].

Lebanon Adventures

The 1983 Beirut barracks bombing was a major incident on October 23, 1983, during the Lebanese Civil War. Two truck bombs struck separate buildings in Beirut, killing 241 American and 58 French soldiers. The blasts led to the withdrawal of the international peacekeeping force from Lebanon, where they had been stationed since the Israeli 1982 invasion of Lebanon.

'Islamic Jihad' took responsibility for the bombing, so there is no proof of Mossad involvement – except for the tremendous amount of explosives, the logistic provided, the motive (both the French and the Americans bombed Hezbollah strongholds in retaliation) and their preference for false-flag attacks. Besides, the Israelis had no need for any international peacekeeping force in their back-garden. Victor Ostrovsky claims that Mossad knew in advance of the attack but did not warn the United States (or France).

9/11 2001 in New York

Mossad was involved in 9/11. Probably they were responsible for the Northern part (Boston where two planes took off and World Trade Center [WTC] in New York). Their foreknowledge is clearly demonstrated by "The five dancing Israelis," who happily photographed the attack from the New Jersey side, one of them addressed as an Arab. They were employed by a moving company, also owned by a now fugitive Israeli, and in the van, upon which they danced, explosives had been transported. When they returned to Israel, they claimed that their task had been to "document" the event.

The Israeli-owned company ICTS is responsible (through daughter-company) for the airport security where three of the four planes departed. The majority of the staff consists of former officers from Shin Bet (the inland intelligence service of Israel). The massive involvement of Israeli intelligence around the event of 9/11 and the willingness of Washington to expel some 200 spies without a single indictment strongly suggests complicity.

The WTC-lease was an internal Jewish matter: In March 2001, Silverstein signed an agreement with the port-authorities, to be valid from July 26. The agreement was promoted by his Australian-Israeli partner Frank Lowy upon very favourable conditions [11]. Lowy was a friend of Lewis Eisenberg, the chief of the port-authorities. The implosion of the WTC-1, -2 & -7 was a complex logistic matter, but brilliantly solved from a demolition point of view, were it not for the many casualties.

Many questions remain concerning 9/11, but much has also been clarified [12], although widely ignored by the media and thus the passive public.

The Phoney Al-Qaida Cell in Palestine

The Israeli intelligence services have been involved in a 13-month effort to 'recruit' a phoney 'al-Qaida cell' among Palestinians, so that Israel could achieve a frontline position in the US war against terrorism and get a green light for a worldwide 'revenge without borders' policy [13]. On Dec. 6 2002, Col. Rashid Abu Shbak, head of the Palestinian Preventive Security Services in the Gaza Strip, held a press conference revealing the details of the alleged plot. His forces had identified a number of Palestinian collaborators who were instructed by the Mossad to form a cell in the Gaza Strip under the name of al-Qaida. Two days before, Sharon had claimed that Israeli intelligence had 'hard evidence' of al-Qaida operations in the Gaza Strip.

Three men were under arrest but 11 had been released while voluntarily having provided information about the contacts. All calls and bank transfers came directly from Israel. The potential recruits had been given money and weapons, "although most of these weapons did not even work."

2005 Hariri-Murder in Beirut

The former Prime Minister Rafiq Hariri was killed in February 2005 by a terrific bomb explosion, which also killed 19 others. It was claimed that the Syrian authorities were the masterminds behind the deed, and Syria retired from its 22-year-old military presence in Lebanon for reasons not easy to reconstruct but somehow relating to the International reaction to the killing.

Hariri, who had become a very rich man, drove in an escort of several cars. This convoy was using jamming equipment, which would make radio remote control of a bomb impossible. However, the boom was ignited by means of a cable. "The bomb was placed underground, especially (since) the crater was so huge," said Hisham Jaber, a retired brigadier general. "Even a car with 1,000 kilograms of TNT wouldn't create such a crater" [14]. A unique photograph handed to The Independent in Beirut taken ~ 36 hours before the bombing shows a drain cover in the road at the exact spot where the explosion was to tear a 30-ft crater in the road [15]. It was a huge explosion, 20 people died, among them Hariri (the news agencies long ago stopped talking about the other 19). The bomb had the explosive power of ~600 kg of dynamite. "This is the work of an intelligence service, not a small group," said Rime Allaf, Middle East analyst at London's Royal Institute of International Affairs, the same day [16], to be confirmed by other recognitions soon to be made. It was the biggest blast in Beirut since the civil war in the eighties.

7/7 2005 in London

Also in the terror attack in London, claimed to have been carried out by four young Moslem men, we find indication for Mossad's involvement, again in cooperation with local 'intelligence' (MI6) [17]. ICTS is present, this time responsible for security in the trains (what an irony, ICTS and responsibility?). There is an official Mossad office in London, and they admitted to have been warned 6 minutes in advance of the blasts, so that they could stop Netanyahu from leaving his hotel, long before the authorities had realized that there was a terror attack. Efraim Halewi, former chief of Mossad, was cited in Jerusalem Post online edition the same day, giving details that were only made public days later, such as that the bombs exploded simultaneously [18] (three of them actually did).

Again, we find deception as a prominent feature: Western countries must be brought to the feeling that they are attacked by a Moslem community. In future terror attacks, this should be considered at least suggestive of a possible Mossad creation.

2005 in Amman

On November 9, 2005, bombs shook three luxury hotels in Amman [19]. Immediately, they were presented as suicide attacks and as usually, Al-Qaida and Zarqawi were given responsibility. Israeli staff and security officials frequently use the Radisson Hotel, close to the Israeli Embassy. There were no Israeli among the victims, except for an Israeli-Arab and two high-ranking Palestinian security officers. Haaretz explained this circumstance by reporting, "a number of Israelis staying on Wednesday at the Radisson hotel were evacuated before the bombing by Jordanian security forces, apparently due to a specific security alert" [20]. A dementia was issued after 20 hours.

How the assaults were ever carried out, we can take as a given that the target of the bombs was the Palestinians, particularly the chief Palestinian spy, and the Chinese military officials. These were at the Hyatt's Hotel to meet with the Palestinian officials. Most people died simply to hide the identity of the real targets. The question is then, why Jordanian authorities, so far not servile towards their Western neighbour, support this cover-up. Has it something to do with their cooperation with CIA [21], published almost simultaneously? In the absence of information, feel free to speculate!

Most probably, Mossad is behind the crime, but a virtual proof will hardly be found. The Americans would have the motive, too, but hardly master the technique. Syria is certainly not to blame, although they will expectedly be carrying the consequences.

Our Friends, Our Allies, and the Next Assaults

The examples given above are, of course, only highlights of a criminal organisation's continued efforts. You can be sure that further similar activities are being planned in Tel Aviv. Mossad is enjoying a strange status, that of a friendly organization, which supports 'us' with information (mostly too unspecific for actually preventing anything) and therefore enjoys a special status. That Mossad quite officially can have a bureau in London outside the Israeli embassy appears strange to me. Die KGB have an office, too, under the cold war?

We, the 'friends' of Israel, are prone to be victims of Mossad's terrorist activities. There is, of course, an even higher activity in the Middle East, foremost Iraq, where Mossad partly operates very openly in the shadows of the American occupation. Also Morocco, towards Israel the most friendly among Arab states, has experienced a high level of terrorist activity, although I must admit that I have not analyzed this for possible Mossad ignition.

Germany has openly admitted that it supplies passports to this frightening parasite. Mossad will know how to show gratitude to the host.
